POLICIES

PROCEDURE

Once I receive your completed commission form, jpeg files (photos of your furry friend) and a 50% deposit, the fun begins!

If you have provided a clear vision of what you want: I will start by sending you an initial rough line sketch for your approval, where you may write back anything you may want altered before I begin detail work.

If you have left the dreaming up to me: (daydreaming is one of my best skills!) then I will start with a verbal vision description and send it to your for your approval before I start my sketch.

I draw my images by hand using a digital program and screen called a Cintiq. This allows for some flexibility in sizing and you will receive a one-of-a-kind print either on fine art paper for framing or as a gallery wrapped canvas. Once the drawing is complete, I will send you a jpeg sneak peek for review. At this point you can make any last alterations in the background color or the placing of any text, and then it is off to print.

I hope your Panting Portrait will keep you in stitches!
